FORM, FUNCTION AND AFFORDABILITY IN OFFICE FURNITURE.

You have a business to run. An image to portray. Selecting the right office furniture that will work for your business while projecting the right style is important to you. HLF Furniture understands this and combines form, function and affordability in a line of modular office furniture designed to suit many needs — private offices, home offices, open office areas, and task-specific applications.

FREEDOM OF CHOICE. FREEDOM OF EXPRESSION.

All HLF Furniture is crafted to the highest construction standards for years of use. That's a given. Where you have a choice is in your selection of laminate color and edge treatments. Four different lines offer different levels of cost and prestige:

Basics is your best value. It mimics the look of Express with 1 $\frac{1}{8}$ " slab construction for cost effectiveness. Available in 12 colors, the Basics line offers many options that make it the broadest, most flexible line at its price level.

Express features a simple laminate edge for a clean, contemporary look. More than 400 models and sizes may be specified in any of over a thousand laminate finishes.

ExpressPlus parallels Express, but offers a radius edge for a softer look.

Woodstock provides a warm touch of wood. Choose mahogany or oak trim to coordinate with any laminate color.

Files are right at hand with this Express single pedestal desk with return and overstorage unit.

HLF FURNITURE MANAGES WELL IN PRIVATE OFFICES.

Office furniture is meant to be functional, but that doesn't mean it has to be dull. HLF Furniture has a variety of modular components to finish any private office in style.

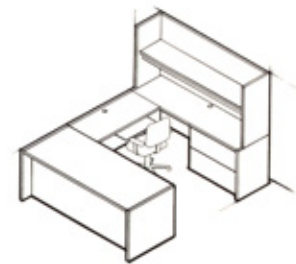

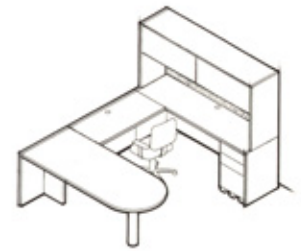

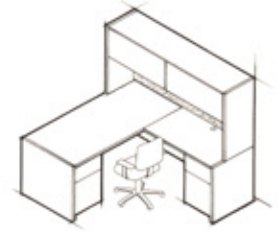

From upper management to administration, HLF gets down to business with everything you need for private offices. Desks, returns and credenzas. Plenty of storage options, too — with bookcases, overstorage and pedestal storage units. Available in a wide range of laminate and trim colors, the units are interchangeable to provide flexibility. Configure them any way you choose to create the type of workstation that works best for the space and user.

ExpressPlus creates functional private office space with a desk, return, credenza and overstorage unit.

HLF FURNITURE WORKS TOGETHER IN OPEN OFFICES.

Like most companies, you probably want your employees to work as a team. But still, everyone needs their own space. Both issues are easily resolved with HLF open office configurations. Screens and overstorage units create visual and acoustical privacy in any configuration to fit your space requirements. Great for travel agencies, auto dealerships and sales/accounting offices. And as your company expands, merges, relocates or consolidates, HLF Furniture can be reconfigured to keep up with the changes. The system uses fewer pieces, so the furniture is easier to specify, install and retrofit than panel-based systems.

HLF Furniture offers a wide variety of desks, returns, and storage units that can be configured to fit any open office.

Custom Woodstock workstations are easily accessible and convey an open, upscale image.

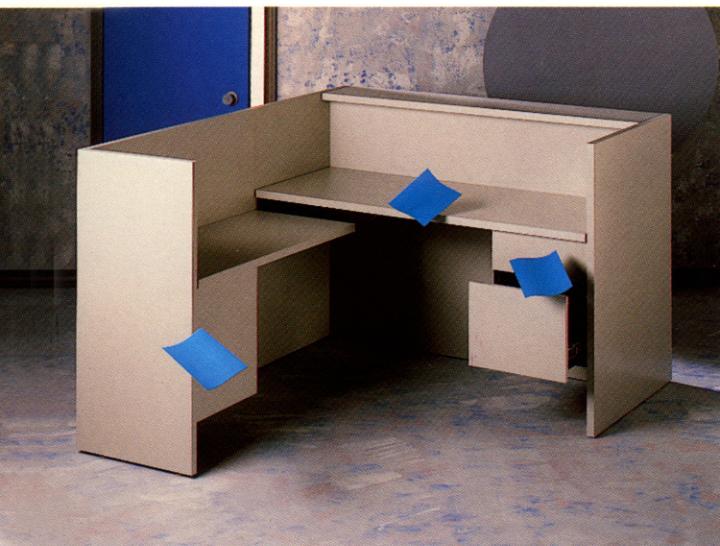

HLF FURNITURE DOES THE JOB IN TASK-SPECIFIC APPLICATIONS.

Whatever the job calls for, HLF Furniture can be configured to fit the task-specific need. Examples include mail rooms, nurses stations, computer/machine stations, trading desks, reception desks and libraries.

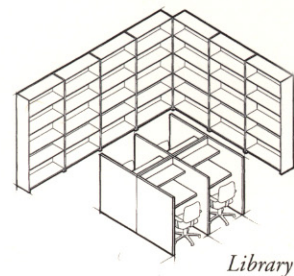

With HLF modular furniture, it's easy to see the possibilities and specify the right unit for the application. The colors, trim and designs are complementary, so task-specific areas coordinate with the offices around them.

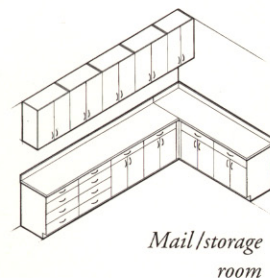

HLF offers the design flexibility of custom commercial cabinetry, yet the units are easy to specify to meet your specific design requirements. Here, several storage units create functional wall storage.

Reception desks combine privacy with function featuring built-in pedestal files for convenient storage.
